CAORLE

Moser

A REFINED GEM IN EVERY RESPECT

“Caorle is a beautiful historic town near Venice, but also a handmade collection of cut vases and bowls made of blown glass inspired by the beauty of the town. Seemingly simple shapes are adorned with deep hand-cut honeycomb patterns, perfectly and precisely intertwined to create a spectacular play of light effects on the surface,” explains the author.

WATER WORLD, OR THE RITE OF SPRING?

The singular harmony of underlaid tones of ocean green and rose complement both the first spring blossoms on a fresh, green branch, or lotuses from a garden pond alike. The choice is up to you.

The ingeniously cut Caorle vase received a prestigious award in 2019 for masterful craftsmanship at the Tableware International Awards of Excellence in Frankfurt. The design was rightfully admired not only for its precise optical cut, but also for the combination of internal rose and external green tones, giving the vase extraordinary depth.

IT IS NOT ABOUT WHAT YOU SEE, BUT HOW YOU LOOK AT IT

Thanks to a clever hexagonal cut, the basic ovate shape of the vase is broken up into a mosaic of many possible perspectives on the same reality. The sharp edges of the honeycomb-like cells separate individual shards, only to reunite them in a new story.

SUCCESS DEMANDED CONTINUATION

The Caorle collection became an instant best-seller on its introduction. Therefore, we have expanded it with multiple larger bowls and a single small bowl. Their unique expression and attractive appearance are possible through the unorthodox composition of Moser glass, where a thick layer of sparkling ocean green is precisely underlaid with a thin layer of increasingly thinner rose glass. Each shape thus becomes a unique solitaire with an air of the exotic.
