A GEM CUT AND POLISHED TO PERFECTION

Moser's treasured Caorle vase has won the Artisanal Award for expert craftsmanship at the Tableware International Awards of Excellence 2019 in Frankfurt. Featuring sharp, jutting edges with six-angle grinding, the Caorle vase has a multi-dimensional optical effect and depth, which is highlighted through the vibrant colours. "My chief inspiration comes from architecture, mainly Romanesque and Byzantine, and the structures that can be transformed into cut patterns", says the author.

WATER WORLD, OR THE RITE OF SPRING?

The singular harmony of flashed tones of ocean green and rose is able to set off the first spring flowers on a newly-greening branch just as well as lotuses from a garden lake. What you prefer is up to you.

IT'S NOT WHAT YOU SEE, BUT HOW YOU CAN WATCH

The refined hexagonal cut splinters the basic oval shape of this robust vase into a mosaic of many different views of the same reality. The sharp edges of the honeycomb cells are divided by strips, and then they immediately rejoin into a new story.
